

Welcome to Beech Village Hall – Your Health & Wellbeing space

Looking for the right environment to run your classes, workshops or one-on-one sessions? Beech Village Hall offers a calm, professional setting where your clients can feel supported and restored, and your business, practice or community group can flourish. From January 2026, our new space, The Wellhouse, will be available for one-on-one sessions or small groups, complementing our Main Hall.

Why choose us?

Our spaces work for all types of health and wellbeing professionals who want somewhere comfortable and welcoming. You'll find everything you'd expect – warmth, quiet, cleanliness - plus the flexibility to grow as your client base expands.

A location that works

We're tucked into beautiful countryside on Alton's outskirts and within easy reach of major towns across Hampshire and Surrey. The A339 is close by; we have our own car park, and while Beech itself is home to around 600 residents, we serve over 32,000 people within a five-mile radius.

Support beyond hiring space

We're not just about hiring space - we actively promote what's happening here through social media and local networks. With over 1,000 people using the Hall each month, you're joining an established community hub with regular footfall. Furthermore, we invite users to join our Practitioner Circle to meet and share with other professionals.

Three flexible spaces

We have three spaces of different sizes, ideal for a range of health and wellbeing activities. Choose the space that suits your session, from intimate one-to-ones to larger group sessions. As your business grows, you can scale up without needing to relocate.

Be part of our Health & Wellbeing community

Running your own wellbeing business can feel isolating, especially when you're navigating challenges alone. That's why we've created the Beech Practitioner Circle, a network of professionals offering mutual support and the chance to feel part of something bigger. We connect regularly to share knowledge and collaborate in ways that benefit both you and your clients.

Our approach encompasses:

- Collaboration, not competition; we work together, not against one another.
- Client-first approach – ensuring clients receive the best possible care.
- Informed referrals – learning about each other's services allows us to guide clients to additional or alternative options.
- Opportunities for collaboration – working together in ways that benefit everyone involved
- Community ethos – built on shared knowledge, mutual support, and exceptional client care.
